NOT SCRAMBLING FOR OFFICE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 14.—The defenceless condition of the American coast, which the general of the army has recently elaborated with much precision of detail, is for the moment the principal subject of conversation among army and navy officers. Gen. Miles declares that England, notwithstanding her great navy, would be practically helpless against a powerful adversary but for her system of coast defences.

Admiral John G. Walker, who represents the progressive element of the new navy, believes war between the United States and a strong European power would demonstrate how illy this country is prepared for such an encounter. "I am a good American," said Admiral Walker

this morning, "but I cannot shut my eyes to the cold facts. We are not prepared to engage in war with any first-class power.

We are in the position China occupied in her recent struggle with Japan."

"We have a vast population, great wealth, boundless resources and intense patriotism, but we cannot maintain an offensive or defensive attitude against any one of the half-dozen foreign countries.

PRUSSIAN HORSES.

The Famous Stud Farm That Supplies the German Army With Animals.

In the easternmost corner of Prussia, near the village of Trakhenen, is a famous horse breeding establishment which was started by the father of Frederick the Great. This great stud farm is still carried on with characteristic energy, and not only provides the German army with the hundred thousand horses which it requires in times of peace, but does much toward keeping up a high standard among the horses of the country. Nearly every farm in east Prussia is devoted to this one occupation, and the German army gets many more horses from this little corner than from anywhere else in the kingdom.
The author of "The Borderland of Ocar and Kaiser" gives an admirable picture of the gentleness and docility of the Trakhen-en thoroughbreds.

We pulled up in a field where were 100 8-year-old stallions running free, and watched by two herders, each bearing a long whip, which he cracked now and then as a warning that some one of the herd was straying.

The herd appeared very quiet, and paid little attention to our carriage as it drove up close to the grass. The major said they were as gentle as sheep and not half as shy, and at his invitation I jumped from my seat and walked up to them, into the very midst of them, strolling in and out among them, patting them on the nose or flank, wherever I happened to be nearest them.

To secure this result a prize is offered to those herders whose horses show the most condemning disposition at the approach of man.

One evening we went to see the horses called home from the pasture. They came in troops of hundreds, and gathered in large inclosures facing the stables. The main body divided itself according to color, the blacks going to one corner, the browns to another, the bays to a third, of whites or grays I saw no specimens.

Here and there would be one that had mistaken his corner, or was seeking for-bidden company out of mischief. The keeper had no difficulty in bringing him to his right senses, however, by simply calling his name and waving his hand in the direction of the corner to which he belonged. The colt thus addressed invariably leaped out from the corner to which he was an intruder and galloped straight to the corner where he belonged. This we saw done many times over, and it never failed.

THE TWO MATCHES.

One day there was a traveler in the woods in California in the dry season, when the trade winds were blowing strong.
He had ridden a long way, and he was hungry and weary, and he was out of horse to smoke a pipe. But when he felt in his pocket he found but two matches.
He struck the first, and it would not light.
"Here is a pretty state of things," said the traveler. "Dying for a smoke. Only one match left, and that certain to miss fire. Was there ever a creature so unfortunate? And yet," thought the traveler, "suppose I light this match and smoke my pipe and shake out the dottle here in the grass. The grass might catch on fire, for it is dry like tinder, and while I search out the flames in front they might evade and run behind me and seize upon my back of poison oak. Before I could reach it that would have blazed up. Over the bush I see a pine tree hung with moss.
That, too, would be in fire upon the instant to its topmost bough, and the flame of that long torch, how would the trade wind take and brandish that through the inflammable forest? I hear this dell roar in a moment with the joint voice of wind and fire. I see myself gallop for my soul, and the flying conflagration chase and outflank me through the hills. I see this pleasant forest burn for days, and the cattle roasted, and the springs dried up, and the farmer ruined, and his children cast upon the world. What a world hangs upon this moment!"

With that he struck the match, and it missed fire.

"Thank God," said the traveler, and he put his pipe in his pocket. "The Late R. L.
Stevenson in Longman's Magazine."

great deal of time in getting away from deal more cheerful than her husband. Wash-

THE SECOND TALK.

George W. Chase Reads an Interesting Paper on Young

Men's Societies.

NEW ENGLAND ASSEMBLY TO COME.

The Paper was Mostly on the Y. M. C. A.
Mr. Chase was Historical. Rev. Mr.
Tebbetts and Rev. Dr. Danker Talked Also.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew of St.
Johns church had a very profitable meeting last night at St. John's parish house.

It was so profitable that the transactions should largely be given publication, more that can be given in a newspaper notice.

George W. Chase gave the second of the practical talks that have been arranged for under the auspices of the brotherhood.

Mr. Chase's subject was "Young Men's Organizations and their Relation to the Church." Rev. Mr. Tebbetts, the rector, made very pleasant introductory remarks and Rev. Mr. Danker of Boston, who happened to drop in, gave an interesting informal talk. There was a short season of questioning after Mr. Chase had concluded.

The meeting was opened by prayer by the rector, who afterwards said in substance that there was a time when it was thought that all knowledge was in the pulpit, but that time has passed and it is now recognized that knowledge is everywhere as well as in the clergy.

Often a clergyman finds a better theologian, or a man of wider knowledge in his church than himself, and he is always pleased to call on such a one for some of his expressions. Mr. Tebbetts made this apply to Mr. Chase and then introduced him to the audience.

Mr. Chase was thankful for the very kind welcome and was glad to be present.

He talked of the Young Men's Christian association mostly. We have an association in town, he said, and the question is often asked could not the other Christian organizations, the churches, do the work it is here to do. That they could under past New England customs there is no doubt, but the conditions are changed.

Family life is not the same and the constant changing of residence has made church ties less binding. What does the community offer that under these changed conditions will give the same character of young men that the old home-life did?

Fraternal organizations are denied to men who are under a certain age and the clubs are selfish and develop the young man one-sidedly. The fact that about $1,000 each day passes over our saloon counters tells plainly of the patronage they get. In view of these conditions the association with its triangular sign, tries to give that which is needed, and as far as possible supply the want of a church in home.

The main object of it is the salvation of the soul through Jesus Christ.

Mr. Chase then reviewed the history of the association from the time Williams held his prayer meeting in London. The work of the association at first was mainly evangelical, he explained, and then he considered its work in this country. During the war many of the young men labored in the camp, hospital and field.

Through the association the Christian commission was established. The work of the international committee was spoken of at length. The railroad men, over a million of them, are considered for by the association. The most prominent railroad men are connected with the association. Instances were cited showing how willing railroad corporations are to help on the work. In nearly all the larger cities where there are Germans the committee has directed work among the German young men and similar work among the French. The work is progressing well among colleges and universities and at present there are twenty-three college association buildings. The work among commercial travellers is important. There are over 100 associations for the negroes and Indians. The society for preventing vice is an outgrowth of the association.

Mr. Chase then talked of the work of the state association. This state stands fourth among all the states in association work. The state committee has five paid employees. In 1885 there were forty-two associations and now there are eighty-nine. There were then 14,000 and now 25,000 members. The North Adams association has been handicapped in the past, but now will attempt to show appreciation for the confidence placed in it. If there is support, a congress and other instructive features and a gymnasium will be established. Mr. Chase quoted in closing from Mr. Houghtaling of Chicago.
The quotation showed the number of young men coming of age yearly and pointed out how valuable personal missionary work among them is. It was shown that the St. Andrew Brotherhood was organized by Mr. Houghtaling and was due to the Christian association.

There should be no conflict between these organizations. They should unite in the work they were designed to do.

Mr. Tebbetts asked Mr. Chase if he thought the association should be dependent or independent to the church. Mr.
Chase said that for some time there was no relation with the church. Afterwards there were different resolutions adopted which brought the association nearer to the church. After the Detroit convention the churches recognized the work of the association and the association has been its handmaid since. The local association desires to work through the North Adams churches. He, Chase, explained that the way the association got hold of the young men was on the method, if you want to have friends make yourself friendly.

Mr. Tebbetts knew the association had done some work among travelling men, but did not know before that this was one of its strongest points. He thought if some of the rooms of the North Adams building could be rented to travelling men it would be a very good thing.

Rev. Dr. Draper of Boston, on his way home from the Albany convention, said a few words. He complimented Mr. Chase on his paper, and said he saw nothing discordant in the Episcopal church taking part with the Y. M. C. A. The doctor talked of the St. Andrew's Brotherhood and its usefulness in supporting the missions.

THE GROWTH OF THE SOCIETY.

The growth of the society was considered by him.

A vote of thanks, on motion of W. A.
Gallup, was extended to Mr. Chase for his paper.

Mr. Tebbetts explained that the St. Andrew work was not antagonistic at all to Y. M. C. A. work in that it was simply for the supporting of the church in spiritual work and was not social. He announced that the New England assembly of the brotherhood had accepted the invitation to meet with St. John's brotherhood February 21, and that meant that about 100 strong Christian young men would be with the parish from Friday to Monday.
He spoke of the efforts that should be made to entertain them.

DEMOCRATIC WARD CAUCUSES.

Dates for Them and the Convention Set
Last Night by the Committee.

The Democratic town committee met last night in the Berkshire club rooms and held a meeting to consider matters relative to the coming city election. It was decided that the Democratic caucuses in the several wards should be held Wednesday evening, the 27th, and that the convention should be held at the city hall Monday, December 2 at 7 o'clock in the evening.

The caucuses will be held wherever the election indicates. At each caucus five delegates will be chosen to the convention and a ward committee of three will also be chosen. It was decided last night that James Meagher should call the caucus of ward 1 to order, C. T. Ralston that of ward 2, J. T. Larkin that of ward 3, A. Albert Hawkins that of ward 4, W. H.
Chase that of ward 5 and A. W. Chippendale that of ward 6. The person who will call the caucus in ward 7 to order has not yet been decided upon. The committee discussed other election matters, but did nothing more that should be given to the public.

LE CUIR'S ASSAILANT.

He is Absent But a Warrant Has Been Issued for Him.

A warrant has been issued for a man named Labrie, accusing him of assaulting Rudolph LeCuir and causing the injuries Mr. LeCuir is now suffering from at the hospital. The officers have made a search for Labrie, but cannot find him. It is said he has gone to Bennington, Vt., on business.

LeCuir was examined this morning at the hospital by a physician on behalf of the commonwealth and it is believed he is not in any immediate danger.

Mrs. Russell Cole.

Mrs. Russell Cole died this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Kingsley, on the east road to Adams, in the ninetieth year of her age.

Mrs. Cole's maiden name was Eunice Brown. She was one of the eight children of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Brown and was born at Adams February 28, 1806. She grew to womanhood and received her education in her native town, and in 1835
she was married to Russell Cole of North Adams. From that time her home was on the farm where she died, now known as the Kingsley farm. Her husband died in 1872.

Mrs. Cole was an old-fashioned New England woman and possessed many estimable and sterling traits of character.
She was kind-hearted, neighborly and obliging, and was ever ready to give encouragement and assistance to others.

She was a very industrious person and in her years of strength and activity she devoted herself earnestly to the welfare of her family, though never to the neglect of her social and neighborly duties. She was honored, trusted and loved by all who enjoyed her acquaintance and the example of her kindly life is well worthy of emulation.

Mrs. Cole suffered from pneumonia nineteen years ago, which somewhat lessened her physical powers, and yet until recently she had enjoyed very good health for a person of her years. Her sight was especially strong and she could see the tower on the summit of Greylock and other distant objects with ease. Toward the last she experienced a troublesome cough, but old age was the cause of her death.

Mrs. Cole leaves two daughters, Mrs. A.
O. Dodge and Mrs. Henry Kingsley; also one sister, Miss Brown, all of this town.

The funeral will be attended from the house Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and the interment will be at Adams.

Mrs. Kate Humphreys Davis.

Mrs. Kate Humphreys Davis of West Main street died last night in her seventy-eighth year. She had been sick about six weeks with dropsical and heart trouble.

Mrs. Davis was born in Newtown, Wales, and came to this country about twenty-five years ago and had been a resident of this town most of the time since. She was an honest, industrious and estimable woman and was held in high respect by those who knew her.

She was an attendant of the Methodist church, though not a professing member.

Mrs. Davis was twice married. She leaves three daughters and a son, Mrs.
Emily Ruff, Mrs. Charles A. Card, Mrs.
Joseph Lloyd and Edward Humphreys, all of this town. Rev. Dr. G. W. Brown will conduct the funeral services Saturday and the interment will be at Blackinton.

In the District Court.

Henry McCann, Albert Wright, Daniel Garrity and Vinous Watson were each fined $3 this morning for drunkenness.
S. Grant was fined $3.

The Prudential Life Insurance company of Newark, N. J., through its agent, Mr. McGrath of this town, paid the mother of the late L. H. Duso an insurance of $100 on her son's life within twenty-four hours of the deceased's funeral. This was certainly very prompt insurance settlement.

Frank and Explicit.

tea party given in her honor, where she

SUBURBAN NEWS.

Happenings of Interest in Our Neighbor Towns.

AT ADAMS TODAY.

A Powder Magazine Blows Up.—New Sewers Completed.—Death of an Old Resident.—A Liquor Case Dismissed.—A Pretty Wedding.—Some Accidents at the New Mill.

Cardiff-Pow Nuptials.

Miss Sarah Cardiff and Robert Pow were united in marriage at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening by Rev. A. B. Penniman, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Cardiff, No. 17 Columbia street, Boston. The wedding was a very pretty one and was solemnized in the presence of about sixty friends and relatives in the parlor, which was tastefully decorated with evergreens and ferns. The bride looked very pretty in a dress of cream colored cashmere, with pearl and chiffon trimmings. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses as also did the bridesmaid, her sister, Miss Maggie Cardiff, who was dressed in cream colored brillianine. Henry Schroder was best man. After the ceremony, a reception was held until 12 o'clock when the young couple left for a short bridal tour, going to Albany. The presents were very valuable and numerous.

Mr. and Mrs. Pow are very well known and popular young people who have the best wishes of their many friends.

On the Columbia Street Petition.

The county commissioners were in town Wednesday afternoon, investigating the matter of changing the course of Columbia street near the "dugway." The petitioner, Oliver A. Upton, showed a plan of the proposed change and the commissioners looked over the ground and discussed the matter. The plan is to run the street from the northeast corner of Berkshire mill No. 2 to the center from the pond under the street. This would entail the filling in of the pond to a point twenty-five feet east of its present bank at the widest part and the construction of a new wall. Mr. Upton said he had received estimates of the cost from several contractors and the amount ranges from $1900 to $2800. The road is very narrow along that part and the change would be a great improvement. The commissioners adjourned the hearing to the first Wednesday in December.

New Sewers.

One of the largest sewer jobs done here for many years has just been completed by Superintendent Whipple and workmen. This was the laying of the new sewer street sewer which is 1650 feet long and lies at a depth varying from seven and one-half feet to twelve and one-half feet deep and eighteen inches in diameter. Two foot gages have been set on each side.

A new sewer is now being laid near the Berkshire mills. The sewer at this point formerly connected with the raceway running through the mill grounds but of late it has been disconnected and the sewerage has been running over the surface. By order of the board of health this surface sewerage had to be stopped and the new sewer is the consequence. This will be a six-inch sewer and will be laid from four to six and one-half feet deep.

Walter McGinnis.

Walter McGinnis, an old resident of Adams, died at the home of his niece, Mrs. Edward McInerney, this morning of consumption. Mr. McGinnis was born in Ireland. He was a first-class tailor and worked many years for C. E. Legate. He was married several years ago but his wife lived less than two years and no children were born to them. Mr. McGinnis has suffered from his dread disease for many years but has only been confined to the bed a few days. The funeral will occur from St. Charles' church at 8 o'clock Saturday morning.

Powder Magazine Blows Up.

Follett Brothers' powder magazine near their quarries was blown to pieces about 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. A can of oil was set in the building near a stove. The oil can burst and spreading, the fire struck two large dynamite cartridges, which went off with a terrific noise. There were five other cartridges and a lot of powder in the building, which did not explode.

Illegal Liquor Case Dismissed.

Erastus Howland, employed at the Zylonite hotel, was in court this morning charged with the illegal keeping of liquor. The case was the result of a raid made by the officers two weeks ago Saturday night, when they found small quantities of whiskey and gin in a coat pocket. A North Adams man claimed the coat was his and for want of evidence against Howland he was discharged.

These three accidents occurred at the new Berkshire mill Wednesday: J. B. Meek a carpenter, suffered a crushed finger by the falling of a heavy timber. F. B. Maynard, a laborer, was struck on the hand by a falling brick, and sustained a severe bruise.

Arthur Valovsky was struck by a iron beam and had a finger crushed. Dr. Boom attended all three.

Measles Prevalent at Zylonite.

Measles have a firm grip on children at Zylonite and there are a few cases there. The disease is of the milder type. Among those afflicted are children of George Maynard, John Rice and Patrick Doyle.

Edwin Forsbury will appear at the opera house Wednesday evening in "Foghorn."

A flood-gate is to be placed at the frog-pond and the place will be flooded this winter for skating purposes.

George Wilsey was slightly ill Wednesday.

Charles Robertson has moved into Orrin Russ' house at Zylonite.

Mr. Frances Buggay was in North Adams Wednesday.

A connection in the circuit of the electric railway, broke at the power station Wednesday morning and the bell which generally rings as such a happening, failed to make a sound. In consequence the cars were at a standstill until it was found out some twenty minutes afterwards.

D. B. Cook has placed an attachment on the small outhouse in the "dugway," owned by W. A. Chase.

J. B. Richmond has bought the Reuben Price property on Spring street for $1500.

W. B. Plunkett and wife and Mrs. C. T. Plunkett are in New York.

George Adams has been in Boston this week.

A. B. Daniels and C. E. Legate are in New York on business.

Earnest Button, who has been working in New York city for several months past, has been quite ill with pneumonia and returned home Wednesday evening to recuperate.

Miss Katie Doyle went to Springfield Wednesday to take a position.

Mrs. C. Hoag of Lenox, who was visiting here, returned home to Lenox Wednesday.

The old Quaker meeting house is being slated and repaired externally by D. B. Cook.

It has been decided not to hold the high school prize speaking contest this week and Principal Hall will announce the date later.

CHESHIRE.

Mrs. Albert Prince lost her pug dog. The mind reader said it was in the water, so it was. Report says some one had tied its feet and it was found dead in the brook.

Mr. Fish and family will spend the winter at Thomaston, Ga., where they were last winter or during the cold weather, for the benefit of their son William.

C. D. Cole has received his horse that was stolen. Mr. Cole's skeleton is not yet recovered. The man who bought it would not give it up, but it will be recovered soon. The officers will make the holder give it up. The supposed thief says he has a father and mother in Adams.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

Mulqueen-McCarthy.

A very quiet home wedding took place Tuesday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother on Linden street, when Miss Mary McCarthy and James Mulqueen were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. Burke. Both of the young people reside in North Adams and after a wedding trip to New York city will make their home there. The couple has the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

Charles Bulkley Hubbell and family have closed their summer house "Brookside" and left for New York city today.

The work of laying the street railway across the track at the depot and also across the bridge was begun Wednesday and when that is finished nothing remains to be done except to put up the wire from Blackinton to this town. So that it looks now as though it would be but a short time before the company puts the cars on.

The Water streets defeated the Main streets in a game of football on the old campus Wednesday afternoon by a score of 12-0. The game was full of sharp plays.

The faculty of Williams college has voted that for over-cutting in various subjects the extra work may be assigned in any one subject, which shall be chosen by them.

The dance given by the Cornet band in Reuther's hall Wednesday night was well attended and a very good time was enjoyed.

Leon Bongerris has gone to Lenox to attend the funeral of his cousin.

Thomas Dundon of Troy was in town Wednesday on business.

Miss Rosana Archambault has severed her connection with Christie & Co.

A young son of Mr. and Mrs. Moser Roberts is quite ill with pneumonia.

BLACKINTON.

The Union church is being frescoed and painted and generally renovated and will be opened for services next Sunday. The church will present a very pretty appearance when finished.

The seats are being put into the new hall, also a new "Commodore" piano. The scenery is all up, and Contractor Barden will finish in a few days.

The Greylock union meeting that was to have been held Friday evening is to be postponed, owing to the repairs that are being done on the church. It is expected that the meeting will be held next week.

We read with much interest Rev. Mr. Church's letter in the TRANSCRIPT on "Municipal Government," and heartily agree with him when he says: "Let us pick out the men best fitted to all the offices irrespective of parties and politics." By so doing we will be sure to have a very successful city government.

THE DOMESTIC DIPLOMAT.

Disorder of a temporary nature does not visibly disturb her.

Never tells her husband anything of the least unpleasant character.

ATTITUDE OF WOOLLEY

Explained In an Open Letter to Christian Endeavor Hosts.

Will Fight to a Finish on Christian Lines.

Alleged Boss Rule and Suppression Furnish Weapons of Attack.

BOSTON, Nov. 14.—The following letter from John G. Woolley "to the Christian Endeavor society at large" is self-explanatory:

"The president of the corporation that controls the United Societies of Christian Endeavor," Mr. Woolley writes, "is also chief owner of The Golden Rule. The corporation consists of some 600 members. I have never heard of any of the rank and file being asked, or even having an opportunity, to join."

"There are some 8,000,000 of us 'privates.' As united societies, we have never voted for anything, nor been consulted about anything. We have no president, no trustees, no secretary nor treasurer, no newspaper, no voice, and so I am forced to address you individually by the mail, or submit to the injustice and tyranny of boss rule, which I refuse to do—for your sake no less than my own. I have nothing to gain by this contention, but you have; and however I may fare, the society we love will have a great profit by it."

"On Oct. 17 The Voice newspaper published an article containing portions of two speeches of mine, one delivered before the General M. E. conference at Rochester, and the other before the Central New York M. E. conference at Newark, N. J., on Oct. 15, in which I alluded to Francis E. Clark in terms derogatory to his leadership of the Christian citizenship movement in our society, but not otherwise."

"On Oct. 22 Mr. Clark, Mr. Beer and Mr. Shaw had letters in the Boston papers, and later in The Voice, from which it appears that Messrs. Beer and Shaw are party prohibitionists and Mr. Clark a more or less open secret. Newspaper dispatches of Oct. 26 contained my reply. Oct. 31 The Golden Rule published one side of the matter and suppressed the other."

"Suppressed, I say, but also since that time they have been requested to publish my side, and have promptly and curiously refused, which was perhaps fair enough, but not to you. This accords with the settled policy of the corporation, which leaves nothing to the judgment of the society, but undertakes to do its thinking as well as to direct its policy. I do not even suspect that there is any conscious selfishness in the management of our organ. It would doubtless be an advantage if the 3,000,000 had less chaperoning and more responsibility."

His Proposition.

"Oct. 28 I sent to the secretary of the United society a scheme of conciliation, in substance as follows:

"I am ready to fight this thing to a finish, but must be a Christian, and possibly here is a chance for us to show our young people an object lesson in Christianity."

"First, I apologize to Mr. Clark for the sharp language of my Newark speech, and suppress so much of it as relates to him, it being still under my control and not having been as yet issued in pamphlet form."

"Second, Mr. Clark apologize to me for his conduct in the corridor of the Brunswick, and print my Boston Common speech, as written, with his comments upon its points, so as to show exactly his objections and his own position upon the matters treated in it."

"Third, Mr. Beer to write a brief statement of the difficulty and its settlement, to be signed by himself, Mr. Clark, Mr. Shaw and me, and printed in The Golden Rule."

"Fourth, the whole matter to end there, as to all its personal features."

"This proposition was also rejected, and so, having done all that I could, I 'stand' and write you this for truth's sake and conscience sake. Nothing could induce me to lead a division of our society. I have been literally deluged in letters recently, declaring for a forward movement, but not one contains a word of disloyalty to the society."

"We ought to be loyal and respectful to our leaders, but leaders are very prone to forget that they owe us loyalty also. And a president of our society, whose attitude toward the saloon is indefinite in its ordinary details, is deficient in loyalty, or bravery, or capacity. My thought in that speech was infinitely bigger than the prohibition party, as you will see when you read it prayerfully."

"Finally, I confess myself baffled and beaten in this last effort. Mr. Clark's exact whereabouts remain undisclosed, but the effort has value for what it did not accomplish."

"After such a trial one feels like a returned polar expedition—as if he had been close to a place which has neither latitude nor longitude—but not quite. I will meet you at the equator."

Railways Consolidated.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The articles of consolidation between the Metropolitan Street Railway company and the Columbus Avenue and Ninth Avenue Railway company were filed yesterday. The new company will take the name of the Metropolitan company and will have a capital of $16,500,000. The indebtedness of the two roads which comprise the Metropolitan system is given as $12,250,000.

Ruth Gets Out of It.

PIERRE, S. D., Nov. 14.—In the case of South Dakota vs. Thomas H. Ruth, late superintendent of public lands, charging Ruth with criminal negligence, whereby the state unnecessarily lost about $50,000 through the Taylor defalcation, Judge Gaff yesterday sustained a demurrer offered on the part of the defense, which practically settles the case.

And Looking For More.

HALIFAX, Nov. 14.—An English syndicate has purchased the four principal breweries in Halifax and one at Charlotte-town, P. E. I. The price paid is $500,000. The syndicate, it is understood, will buy up the other breweries throughout the provinces.

Belated Honor.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—A medal has been awarded to Thomas Ellsworth of Boston for most distinguished gallantry in action at Honey Hill, S. C., Nov. 30, 1864, in carrying his wounded commanding officer under heavy fire.

The Union Bank Widdle.

St. John's, N. F., Nov. 14.—The persons having in charge the liquidation of the Union bank have issued a call upon all the stockholders, assessing them the amount of the reserved liability, hoping thereby to be able to pay the promised 25 per cent dividend. The stockholders' complacent protesting against any such action until all the directors have been compelled to surrender all of their personal possessions.

The Indian Scare.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—General Wheaton has been instructed by the war department to confer freely with the agent of the southern Ute reservation to send forward any troops deemed necessary to pacify the peace. He is to assure the Indians that the troops come among them for the purpose of protecting them and to secure the arrest of persons who murdered the two Utes.

Sorry For the Minister.

Many things look queer the first time we see them.

Five-year-old Freddy was showing the young minister about the place. His eyes frequently glanced up at the kind face, and then rested with a look of trouble on the pointed toes of the Pica-dilly boots.

Finally he blurted out his anxiety in the question, "Ain't you got but one toe?"—Babyhood.

Woeful.

A fellow in society will hear unto satisfy the obvious propriety of wedding money if he can.

But in London town or Paris is the hope of all the heiresses and pretty millionaires to catch a nobleman.

A dogged who's laborer, however little merited, a little high is ferreted and captured in his lair.

Yes, this tale hunting vanity is a species of insanity, and it's woeful in humanity—makes the chaffier tear his hair.—New York Recorder.

The Clerk Could Go to Bed.

A countryman and his son "put up" at a city hotel. (Son out seeing the town. Old gent comes down from his room at midnight and says to the night clerk):

"Has my son come in yet?"

Night Clerk—Guess not. Haven't seen him.

Chaffey Believed to Have Much More Plunder Hidden Away.

Said to Have Been a Convict in Michigan.

Possible Clue to His Record Which May Unravel the Mystery.

BOSTON, Nov. 14.—James S. Chaffey was arraigned in the municipal court yesterday charged with receiving property stolen from persons unknown. Chaffey waived examination, and bail was fixed at $25,000. The Boston police, under the direction of Chief Inspector Watts, are doing everything in their power to straighten out the tangle which was presented by the arrest of Chaffey and the discovery of $100,000 worth of plunder, which had been gathered by the convict William Barrett or any confederate that might have been working with him. The interest in the case, which is one of the most famous in the criminal history of Massachusetts, is still great, and further startling developments are looked for.

Chief Watts believes that there is a large amount of stolen property not yet brought to light, and strong pressure is being brought to bear on Chaffey to tell anything that he might have left untold. Little confidence is placed in the statements made by Barrett. It is known that he was connected with many of the robberies which alarmed Massachusetts a few years ago, and that there was a large amount of property taken than has been recovered.

Chaffey's Past. Chief Inspector Watts yesterday received a letter from a man residing in Sonerville, in which the latter said that he knew a James S. Chaffey out in Michigan away back in the '70s, and from the description that he has read in the newspapers he is inclined to believe that the prisoner is the same one.

In his letter the man, whose name is withheld at the request of Chief Watts, states that he used to attend the same Sabbath school with Chaffey. One day, either in '76 or '77, he was surprised to learn that Jim, as he called him, had been arrested and held for burglary. He was convicted of that charge and was sent to the state prison at Jackson, Mich., for a term of four years.

The letter writer informed the chief that about that time he and his family came back to the east, and since that time he has never had any trace of Chaffey. He describes the man as being rather small, having light eyes, and says that at that time he wore a full red beard.

The description of the man tallies well with that of the prisoner, with the exception that he has no beard at this time, although he is of a rather sandy complexion and would be likely to have that color beard should it allow it to grow.

The fact is considered by Chief Watts to be rather an important one, and he intends to give the man a chance to look at Chaffey in the Charles street jail to see if he can recognize the man.

Socialist Arguments. BOSTON, Nov. 14.—Over 1500 people assembled in Faneuil hall last night and welcomed J. K. Hardie and Frank Smith, the English socialists. Mr. Hardie said that a hundred years ago his grandfathers had been hanged, drawn and quartered for being a Radical and being opposed to royalty. He admired and respected true royalty wherever it was to be found, and the true independence of mind was the thing to which he showed his fealty. He then surveyed the condition of the working people in Europe and this country, and said that the wealth of all countries was being concentrated into fewer hands year by year. He claimed that socialism was the only panacea which went to the root of the evils of our present economic system. Frank Smith portrayed the result of the threat of the capitalists that if socialism got control of the country the wealth would leave it. He was especially bitter on the Vanderbilt, Carnegies and other multi-millionaires, and claimed that they were little better than robbers.

Nominating Board Won. BOSTON, Nov. 14.—A lively meeting of the Massachusetts division of the League of American Wheelmen was held last night, at which officers were elected. The opponents of the men who have been in control of the division for some time suffered a severe defeat. The following is the result of the election: Chief consul, Sterling Elliott; vice consul, D. E. Miller; secretary-treasurer, Alonzo D. Peck, Jr. The election of Peck was hotly contested, and was really the termination of the differences between the nominating committee and the Consolidated cycling clubs. The latter were badly beaten.

Preparing for a Crusade. BOSTON, Nov. 14.—The Greater Boston No-Licence league was formed here last night. It is composed of representatives of the Christian Endeavor, Epworth league and temperance societies. Its platform etches the corrupting and demoralizing effects of the saloon, and its moral and political debasement of the city's interests, until there is an alarming menace to the welfare, progress and security of the city, and urges the support of one compact, non-sectarian, non-partisan body to conduct a campaign of temperance agitation, education and organization.

Run and the Law. BROOKLYN, Mass., Nov. 14.—The police investigation was resumed last night, when additional testimony on the alleged laxity of enforcing the liquor law was given. Officer Case had considerable to say about raids and the alleged failure on the part of the city marshal to do anything after reporting suspicious cases. Officer Boyden told of his removal from the liquor squad, of his frequent reports of suspicious places and, finally, his indifference, as he saw that the marshal did not attempt to enforce the law. Other sensational testimony was given.

A New President. WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 14.—At the session of the National Grange last evening a letter was read from Susan B. Anthony, urging the convention to speak upon woman suffrage with no uncertain voice. The legislative committee reported progress and a probable conference with similar committees of other bodies for the purpose of considering the tariff and the money question. The national master announced his committees for the convention, and at the close of the first day the work for the week was planned and laid out.

Wanted to Die. AMESBURY, Mass., Nov. 14.—A man with maniacal tendencies was caught while roaming about Newton, N. H., and brought here for confinement until his identity could be learned. The officers had a terrible struggle to control him in his attempt to cut his throat. He said his name was Deansmore. His clothing was marked Deansmore, Carroll County, New Hampshire, Ossipee, N. H.

Graduated Seventy-Five Years Ago. BOLTON, Mass., Nov. 14.—Rev. Thomas Treadwell Stone, D.D., the oldest graduate of Bowdoin college, and one of the oldest ministers in the country, is dead. Dr. Stone was born in Maine in 1800, and graduated from Bowdoin at the age of 20 years. In spite of his age, he had enjoyed good health, and last year took part in the anniversary exercises of Bowdoin college.

Located in Texas. HAVENHILL, Mass., Nov. 14.—A letter was received yesterday from John F. Bradley, who mysteriously disappeared from this city in September last, leaving a wife and children behind. The letter was dated Austin, and stated that the writer intended to go into business there.

Pined For Cash. LOWELL, Mass., Nov. 14.—Stephen B. Puffer, a prominent real estate dealer, has filed a petition in insolvency, with liabilities reported to be $302,000. Freeman W. Puffer, his brother, of French & Puffer, has done likewise for his private accounts for $80,000.

Belongs in Holyoke. WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 14.—An unknown man who was struck by a locomotive on the Shrewsbury road, Nov. 6, and taken to the city hospital, regained consciousness yesterday, and said his name was James Ryan, a mill operative, of Holyoke.

A Wicked Old Fellow. PROVIDENCE, Nov. 14.—James H. Freeman, a negro, was arrested here yesterday for breaking and entering at East Greenwich. Freeman is 60 years old, and has spent about 35 years of that time in the state penal institutions.

Medals Never Came. BOSTON, Nov. 14.—The survivors of the Fort Hudson (La.) Fortification Hope association, have reorganized for the purpose of obtaining from the government the medals of honor promised by General N. P. Banks in 1893.

Work to Be Rushed. HAVENHILL, Mass., Nov. 14.—The Havenhill company has been reorganized, and it has been decided to rush the work of construction as much as possible this season.

A Gregory Ending. NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 14.—A 15-round fight between Barney Keenan and James Gaffney last night resulted in a draw. Both men were barely able to stand at the end of the fight.

Big Hotel Sold. BOSTON, Nov. 14.—The Plaza, a large apartment hotel, was sold by auction yesterday for $370,000. Albert Geiger of this city, a real estate dealer, was the purchaser.

New England Briefs. Vermont is said to favor Reed for president. Statistics show that Massachusetts leads in good roads. A new electric railway is planned from Newton Centre to Boston. Boston street cars were tied up about an hour by an accident to a "cable box." John Fuhey, 28 years old, was run over by a train at Boston and died soon after. Michael T. Berry was nominated for mayor of Haverhill, Mass., by the Socialist-Labor party. At the Lynn (Mass.) Republican municipal convention E. A. Bessom was nominated for the mayoralty. An unknown man, apparently a tramp, was killed at a Lynn (Mass.) crossing of the Boston and Maine railroad.

Had a Grand Time. ATLANTA, Nov. 14.—Drummers' day at the exposition brought 6000 commercial travelers to this city. The exercises consisted of a street parade of the drummers and gorgeously decorated floats. At the exposition there was a commercial men's congress, at which many matters of interest to the commercial south were discussed. Afterward there was a barbecue for the drummers and their friends, at which 5000 people were fed.

A Lively Domestic Row. LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—Mrs. Mooney could not find her daughter, Lady Sholto Douglas, yesterday. Mrs. Mooney arrived here Tuesday and started in raising a tremendous rumpus. She was put out of the theater where her daughter was playing. The daughter lost her engagement and Lord Sholto threatened to shoot the mother. Lord Sholto says that he has sent his wife away where her mother can never see her again.

Yachtsman Is Right. LONDON, Nov. 14.—Yachtsmen severely criticized Dunraven's charges, and adds: It should be observed that at least 18 tons dead weight are required to bring Dunraven down four inches, and such a weight is not easily shipped or unshipped without notice. In conclusion, the Yachtsman remarks: Lord Dunraven, in publishing the pamphlet, not only acted egotistically, but aimed a serious blow at the prestige of British yachting.

St. John Is Winter Port. ST. JOHN, N. B., Nov. 14.—The Beaver line, making Montreal its terminus in summer and Boston in winter, has been awarded the subsidy to run direct between this port and Liverpool, thus making St. John the Canadian winter port for freight.

Charged With Arson. AMSTERDAM, N. Y., Nov. 14.—Ex-State Comptroller Edward Wemple of Fultonville was arrested yesterday on the charge of arson. He has been admitted to bail in the sum of $10,000.

FIGHTING THE GALLOWES.

Outline of Arguments to Be Presented in Behalf of Holmes.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—H. H. Holmes, convicted of the murder of B. F. Pitelzel, through his counsel, yesterday, filed reasons for a new trial on the grounds which will be argued next Monday, namely:

For the reason that the district attorney in his opening speech, made statements which related to other crimes which could not be part of the evidence, and they were of such a terrible nature that their effect on the jury was so adverse to the defendant that it was impossible for them to decide purely upon the evidence in this case. For the reason that the district attorney in his closing speech mentioned the death of the children and the finding of their dead bodies in the morgue.

The counsel in allowing Mrs. Pitelzel to testify or state what her husband had told her, in not allowing Mrs. Pitelzel to testify of her own knowledge to the doings of her husband in Terre Haute, Ind., in allowing the testimony of Mrs. Pitelzel relating to the bottle of nitro-glycerine; in ruling that the defendant's wife was a competent witness; in allowing evidence of the whereabouts of the children and finding their bodies in Toronto; in permitting jurors to enter the box upon their statement they had formed or expressed an opinion regarding the guilt or innocence of the defendant; in charging the jury by giving undue prominence to the evidence favorable to the commonwealth, and not sufficient prominence to the evidence favorable to the prisoner.

Five Removals.

DUBLIN, Nov. 14.—The meeting of the Irish National Federation at 1:30 this morning issued a notice to the press to the effect that Sir Thomas H. G. Esmonde (Anti-Parnellite) had introduced a compromise resolution proposing to appoint a committee to reconsider the subject matter of the organization of the party, and that this motion was rejected. A motion to remove Messrs. Healy, Arthur O'Connor, Dr. Fox, William Murphy and Joseph Mooney from the executive committee was adopted. Murphy and Mooney were also removed from the positions of treasurers of the federation. Amid cheers and counter-cheers the meeting adjourned.

Death May Make a Tie.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14.—A dispatch from Westminster announced the sudden death last night of Senator-elect Pinkney F. Bennett of Carroll county. At the late election Bennett was re-elected for a third term as a Democrat. Upon the result of the election of Bennett's successor depends the political complexion of the next senate of Maryland. With Mr. Bennett's vote that body stood 14 Democrats and 12 Republicans. Should the Republicans elect a successor to Mr. Bennett, the senate would be a tie, with Senator Benson of Baltimore acting in harmony with the Republicans.

Underground Wealth.

HALIFAX, Nov. 14.—An immense deposit of chromite iron ore, discovered on the west side of Port-aux-Fort bay, Newfoundland, has been purchased by a combination in the United States. The length of the seams is 240 feet on the surface, and there are eight veins, varying in width from 6 to 12 feet, of solid "prill" ore. Professor Maynard says there are 12,000 tons in sight on the surface, and that the supply below ground is practically inexhaustible. The ore is worth $25 a ton for iron, and $47 a ton for chrome, and the purity of the deposit makes it especially valuable.

Bayard's Mission.

DUNDEE, Scot., Nov. 14.—United States Ambassador Bayard made a speech yesterday to the members of the Chamber of

FINALLY KILLED HIMSELF.

Texas Man Took the Lives of His Wife and Young Daughter.

LAREDO, Tex., Nov. 14.—A man registered here Monday, with a woman and an 8-year-old girl, as C. Schuler and family of San Antonio. Tuesday afternoon the man procured a horse and buggy, ostensibly to drive his wife and child to the depot. Later he returned the buggy, and proceeded to the hotel, ate supper and retired to his room. Yesterday a shepherd discovered the bodies of the woman and girl lying in some brush, about three miles from the city. He immediately notified the city officials, who called at the Hotel Hamilton and asked Schuler, over the transom, where his wife and child were. A pistol shot was soon heard, and when the door was forced, Schuler was found dead, with a bullet in his heart.

Talking of Treachery.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The chief public interest in the meeting of the Knights of Labor yesterday were the addresses of General Master Workman Sovereign and General Worthy Foreman Bishop. Much of Mr. Sovereign's address was devoted to the alleged treachery of those who headed the revolt against the general officers of the order during the past year. He reviewed what he termed their "devilish treachery" and their efforts to disrupt the order. The address of Bishop also dealt with the attacks made upon the Knights of Labor by the revolting members, but contains little of general importance beyond an appeal for stronger labor organizations.

Lots of Scratching.

HALIFAX, Nov. 14.—The warship Crescent sailed yesterday afternoon for Bermuda. A sensation was caused when it became known yesterday that the itch broke out on board the ship last week and developed into an epidemic. So bad was the disease that officers and men to the number of 600 had to be taken to the quarantine station and undergo treatment and disinfection. The middies and blue-jackets attended farewell social functions without knowing they were afflicted with an infectious disease, and now civilians are uneasy until they are sure they did not also contract it.

Swapped Players.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—At the meeting of the National Baseball League yesterday Cleveland and Chicago were the only clubs who had no players to trade off. The result of the dickering was that Nash was exchanged for Hamilton. Nash goes to Philadelphia, where he will play third base and captain the club. Hamilton will displace McCarthy on the Boston nine and Duffly will succeed Nash as captain. Baltimore gave Gleason and Deans in exchange for Doyle. The magnates decided that the League will remit no players' fines.

Six Men Went Down.

STANBROOK, L. I., Nov. 14.—The oyster steamer James W. Doyle was sunk off Coney Island yesterday. She carried a crew of five men, and W. E. Woods and all are reported drowned. Woods was an expert oyster planter. He owned extensive beds in the bay here and at other places. The Doyle was loaded down heavily with seed oysters, and is supposed to have been caught by a heavy sea, the additional weight sinking her before any of the crew could escape.

LIMA, Nov. 14.—The senate is now discussing the project of allowing the establishment of foreign insurance agencies, and it is probable that the laws relative to this subject will be modified.
